

Ten Dreams

Prashant Gupta, July '11

I pray to God for India to be,

where mind is free and fearless.

where helping each other is living.

where no one sleeps hungry.

where parents are revered as gods.

where a child realizes full potential.

where earth's beauty is in abundance.

where justice delivers without delay.

where truth brings peace.

where festivity is always in air.

where one finds a path beyond life ...

I pray to God for India of my dreams.
